“ Where to start... Josh Decatur brought us together when we were freshman in high school. We all hooked up our Xbox's and I preceded to get annihilated but Josh and Heath, I remember him playing in band with me trumpet if I'm not mistaken, going to Arthur Bryant's just having a great time being young. Heath was always down to earth and seeing this obituary is another reminder for me to treasure the moments and strive to make more. To Priscilla and Lucas I cannot begin to imagine the words I feel are good enough to say, but I am truly sad to see this happen to Heath, we weren't close friends but he was always a warm greeting for me and I will forever appreciate that.
