“ Juanita welcomed me with open arms when I started as the Plant Manager at Wincup, 13 years ago. We spent countless hours discussing work, people, and life in general. It was mentioned at the funeral that Juanita was frugal. I'll never forget the first time I asked her where to find the staples in the office. She went to the supply cabinet, opened a box of staples, took out 1 stick, broke it in half, and handed me that half stick of staples. I just stared at her in disbelief. She said I could have more when those were gone, and she huffed and took the tiny, quick steps she took when you knew she meant business. She picked up pens at garage sales, and had a gallon size Hefty bag of used pens in her drawer. Unused copies from the copy machine became scratch paper, and she had a huge stack.

Juanita could cut you with a quick comment, or stop you with a glare, but the Juanita I'll remember is the loving, kind person that comforted me with a hug, compassion, presence, and a steadying hand at the unexpected loss of my brother a few years ago. Or the professional, spirited ally of countless Wincup team members, making sure payroll was correct, or that all were taken care of. May you rest in peace, dear friend. God has gained another angel.

Doug Smith,

and the team members at Wincup.
