“ As the youngest child of my mom, I have many memories of her. She always considered me her baby, even in my fifties! My mom was a great cook and made the best cinnamon rolls and dinner rolls, all from scratch. I would come home from school and she would have home made bread and a wonderful meal for our family. She always helped me with home work and any project at school. In 4H she figured sewing was'nt something something I was good at, so she kinda did my project and I, she really got a blue ribbon at the state fair. There are so many memories I have of her through the years. She always said she was blessed the Nancy and I after my brother was killed. She said a door closed and a door opened. I feel now she has gone through another door into heaven to be with our family members who have passed. She is at peace now. I have joy knowing I meet her again when I go to my final home.
