“ Pat & I were co-regional managers for various insurance/professional testing companies some 20 years ago. She supervised many test proctors scattered over the USA. Not only was she technically proficient, but she was an exceptionally sympathetic and popular supervisor. She was always fair minded and uncomplaining about the extensive travel requirements of her job.

We kept in contact over the years and I was fortunate to visit with her in her new lovely Leesburg home last winter. As always, Pat was gracious and uncomplaining about her health issues. I will miss her. She was a very dear friend!

“ Pat and I met when in our 20s. We did lunches, concerts, and long phone conversations for years. When she was diagnosed with cancer we talked more as it was a hard hit. When it came back we talked about her moving to Florida near her sister. She saw me thru five children and a divorce and her cancer scare hit when my heart scare hit. We commiserated with each other for hours, laughing our way thru the absurdity of aging.

I never heard her complain about unfairness of sickness, or how hard her life was. She was grace under fire, a goal we should share. She'll be missed, but she said she'd save me a spot next to her in heaven where she celebrates with mom and dad.
