“ The first time I met Wayne, he told me how much he loved seeing my dimples that early in the morning. I was his waitress at Hot Pots Cafe in Higginsville, and had the pleasure of seeing him every morning, as soon as I opened the doors. I could always count on him being my first customer, and making my morning wonderful just by his impressive singing voice. He put a smile on my face every morning he came in. I only knew him for a very short time, but his positive attitude will always be with me. I'll miss his stories, his charming way of making me laugh and his encouraging spirit. He will be missed.
